

Worldwide access to current project information from your customized online database

- ✓ Showcase your expertise to the global building industry
- ✓ Collaborate more effectively with co-workers
- ✓ Save time on the tender process

When it comes to expertise and knowledge, Galleo is the number one hub for the global building industry. Showcase what projects you and your company is working on and which projects have been completed so far. To a worldwide audience! And with the advanced search function, you are just clicks away from finding the right source of inspiration and expertise for future projects.

Furthermore, Galleo is also the place to digitally secure, manage and unlock any project data. This way, colleagues from different departments can find whatever information they need, safe and swiftly. Plus, with just one press of a button, the required data is converted to a tender-ready reference sheet to assist in the procurement process. And by virtue of an API connection, every bit of relevant project information is also automatically displayed on your website. All in one database. With Galleo, your business is ready for a data-driven future.

Digitally secure manage, and unlock data

Secure and manage project data easily

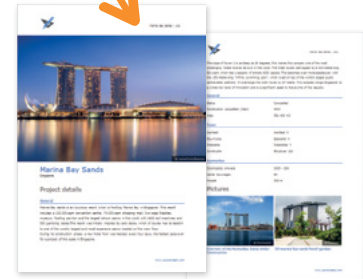

Users create their own input fields in the closed off project database section. This way, governing project information is easy as pie. Next to the option to save and store testimonials and publications, Galleo also offers numerous advanced image database options, e.g. the possibility to 'tag' photos.

Save time on the tender process

With a personal account, every user administers his or her projects and expertise in the database. By unlocking information centrally, tender-ready reference sheets are easily generated into the required corporate design. Always with matching vision statements and in the right format!

All with the push of a button!

Increase the connection between co-workers

As all current project data is shared in one central database, Galleo is a powerful tool to help departments collaborate more effectively. Workers have quick access into the expertise and knowledge of other co-workers, and they automatically receive relevant updates. This reinforces the interconnectedness. Plus, it stimulates internal knowledge sharing.

With Galleo:

- tender specialists generate, with the push of a button, reference sheets in various formats;
- the secretariat manages the procurable publications and testimonials for each project;
- each project team secures the acquired knowledge and corporate vision documents for each project internally;
- marketing-specialists collect imagery in an image database and connect these to corporate website(s);
- ICT links, with an API, several applications like Power BI to the secured and adaptable database.
